Stythe bringing the energy for Steel

It feels impossible not to smile in the effervescent presence of Carys Stythe.

The Ascot Park Hotel Southern Steel are certainly reaping the rewards of the infectious energy the formidable defender brings to the team environment – not to mention a few, ahem, funky dance moves.

“I always take a little Jump Jam session on game day,” Stythe chuckles.

“Everyone does it which is really cool because there’s some people in the team who aren’t the most comfortable dancers, especially my dancing. Hey, they still take it on and I think that shows what we are like as a team – just do whatever it takes for each other. It brings a bit of fun.”
